HERMAN SONS MEET.
CONVENTION AT STOCKTON.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
STOCKTON, May 8.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Order of Herman Sons of the State of California is in session here. Grand President A. Hagedorn, presiding. The Herman Sons compose one of the strongest German fraternal organizations in the State. In addition to the grand officers, there are seventy-four delegates present. Mayor Williams, on behalf of the city, presented the delegates the key of the municipality.
The Grand President responded, and thanked the Mayor for the hospitality offered.

The reports of the Grand President and the Second Vice-President were read and approved. There are twenty-two lodges in the State, with a total membership of 2,500, and five women's lodges, with a total membership of 600.
The association has $100,000 on hand.
A dispatch was received today from Mayor Worswick of San Jose, inviting the Herman Sons to hold their next convention in that city.

Tonight, a banquet was given the visitors by San Joaquin Lodge. Tomorrow night, a ball will be given in honor of the visiting delegates. The convention will probably adjourn
Wednesday night.

AS THO' BURIED YESTERDAY.
PHENOMENON OF THE GRAVE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
UKIAH, May 8.—In removing bodies
from the old cemetery at Point Arena
last week, preparatory to interring
them in a new one, the body of a child of Capt. Iverson, which had been buried nearly forty years ago, was as natural as if it had died only yesterday. The features retained their shape and there was no sign of decomposition.

The phenomenon is attributed to minerals that have the property of preserving the body.
A few years ago a body removed from the same cemetery was found to have turned to stone.

REPORT TO WASHINGTON.
ON PANAMA CANAL TRAFFIC.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—A matter of great commercial importance to the Pacific Coast is discussed in a report that has been prepared for the Information of the President, Secretary Taft
of the War Department and J. L. Bris-low, a special commissioner appointed by the President to visit the canal and acquire facts on the question of the utility of the Panama route for the movement of freight between San Francisco and the Atlantic States. The report was submitted by W. R. Wheeler, W. J. Dutton and Rufus P. Jennings. It was adopted by the trustees of the Channel of Commerce, and today was forwarded to Washington in printed form by the Chamber.

The Chamber finds that "there is really but one object to be attained, and that is the adoption of such a course as will make the Panama route more advantageous for the movement of freight than under the conditions heretofore existing."

SLOPE BRIEFS.
Don't Care to Ship With Dynamite.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The nounced as Seward, Resurrection Bay.

Crop Conditions Splendid.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Reports from all sections of California point to splendid crop conditions. The grain

dications of the season, the fruit crop will show improvement over last year. Prunes, apples and cherries will be harvested
in lighter quantities than last season;
otherwise, the yield is promising. The output of grapes in the bay counties will be large.

Arnold's Taffeta 15c

Think of it. Those of you who read the magazines know of its value. It is made of Egyptian yarns, with a smooth face, closely resembling foulard silks. They are mercerized, and so finished that after being washed and ironed, their original lustrous surface is retained. The colors are absolutely fast, and the designs are very beautiful. Per yard 15c.

12c, 15c and 18c Batiste 10c

The lot comprises all of our late Spring selections. Simply the broken lines thrown together to clean up—in many cases only one dress pattern of a style left. Rather than give it fixture room, we much prefer giving you a nice early morning bargain. They include some dark effects; mostly all nice, neat, small designs. You will find in the lot some of Arnold's famous holly batiste. The width is 32 inches. Your choice of the lot as soon as the door opens, per yard, 10c.

they will leave him to his study, with Annapolis in view.

VOTES LOST IN LIQUOR FIGHT.
Both Sides Fooled by Registration Tangle.

Barber Statesman on Show at Portland Fair.

"Curry" and "Phil" to Go on Juicy Junket.

A shock is in store for the anti-saloons, which for several weeks have been hustling the registration of the saloons counted upon to support the movement.

The necessities of their opponents in the way of receiving a similar vote was found yesterday that the large number of persons who have registered since the last fifteen days were so late in performance of that duty that they cannot vote at the election on May 11.

The registration has been extremely slow, especially since the filing of the petition requesting the Council to call an election on the proposal to close the saloons. The anti-saloons workers have wasted much time in securing the registration of their friends who have to the State one year, but who have not voted.

There has been much activity, too, in the recording of transfers by voters who have moved from one precinct to another since last they registered. The anti-saloons people have been just as busy, and in the last few days there has been almost a constant string of transfers at the registration office in Court house. Many registrations were made and transfers recorded yesterday, although it was given out by the city clerk that the time had expired at midnight on Sunday.

It came to light later, however, that the transfers could be recorded until midnight last night, but that the time for registration for the coming election expired two weeks ago.

The misunderstanding with reference to the final registration date came through the fact that the twenty-day limit is fixed for cities not governed by a freeholders' charter, while the new Los Angeles charter sets the limit the same as for general elections, which is forty days prior to the day of the election.

The large forward the startling fact that all persons who have registered since April 23 are not eligible to vote at the anti-saloons election, but it is said to be certain that the city has lost considerably by the discovery.

Persons who had registered for the last municipal election are not affected, inasmuch as those who registered prior to April 23 are eligible to vote at the anti-saloons election.

Those who registered on or after April 23, noting their names on one precinct to another, will not be deprived of their voting privilege.

It was said at the Anti-Saloons League meeting last night that the understanding was that the registration would close until yesterday, but Attorney Goudge said this is a misapprehension.

"CURRY" AND "PHIL."

GOING TO THE FAIR. Curry and Phil at the Fair, or the Gleanings of Lovely Los Angeles, Portland, might be the title of a book for publication within the next few weeks, for Los Angeles is to be the Portland Exposition a distance of 100 miles, and it seems to have escaped the notice of Secretary Wiggin before his return to the North with the Chamber of Commerce exhibit.

Portland and Assemblyman Curry of this city are among those who are for the choice of the fat lot that were passed out so lavishly to the but not lamented Legislative committee to represent the city at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Providing for this toothsome was introduced in the Assembly on March 2, about a week before the opening of the exposition. It recited that it was proper that this great State should be represented in the exercises held to the formal opening of the exposition, and, with the consent of the Senate, provided that members of each body be selected to attend these exercises, together with the Lieutenant-Governor, the President pro tem, of the Senate, the speaker of the House, and the speaker pro tem, of the Assembly.

A remarkable part of this resolution is its liberality toward those who are in the junket. If the $3000 appropriation for the bill is not sufficient for the committee any of the members want but have not the money to pay for, all they need do is to draw on the State.

"The sum of $300, or as much more as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the contingent fund of the Senate, and one half from the contingent fund of the Assembly, to be expended under the direction of the select committee authorized, and in the manner set forth."

Members of Los Angeles, Leavitt, Shortridge of San Jose, and Ward of Santa Rosa and Durkin were selected from the Senate, while the Assemblymen include those of Los Angeles, Beardslee of Oroville, and Rolley of Eureka.

It is believed to be the first time a celebrated barber statesman of Los Angeles has been sent forth as an ambassador of the city to the fair of seeing him has been denied states and other peoples. Likewise

Curry has yet been received that the "Portland Day" is to be set at the fair to mark the coming of the fair.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS

Federal Grand Jury

The Federal grand jury will meet again Wednesday morning. It is stated that the jurors do not know what matters are to be presented to them.

Copp Flats are Sold

The A. J. Copp flats, with lot 120125 feet, on the southwest corner of Union avenue and Inglewood street, have been purchased through U. H. Gower & Co., by Francis H. Rice, for $25,000.

Goss North

George J. McKeeby, Deputy United States Attorney, left last evening for Bakersfield. Tomorrow he will go to Fresno, on governmental business.

Horse Breaks Driver's Leg

Charles Bell was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg. He is a teamster and was killed while working about his team, at Forty-second street and Central avenue.

Baptists Adopt Resolutions

At a meeting of the Baptist ministers held yesterday they adopted resolutions favoring the movement for an ordinance abolishing the saloons of the city, denouncing the licensed saloons and calling upon their people to organize for the campaign.

Bumped by Car

Charles Varian, while somewhat the worse from an overdose of grog, undertook to board a street-car on San Fernando street, near River station yesterday, and succeeded in being severely bumped in the ribs by the car. At the Receiving Hospital it was found that no bones were broken and the man was stupor from the effects of liquor more than from the injury.

Hurt by Cave-in

While at work in a ditch that was being dug on a Vieta street yesterday, for a main of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, two men were partially buried by a cave-in. F. C. Mason, who resides at Alhambra, had his left knee fractured and received severe bruises on the right. Joe Loretta, who resides at Los Angeles, was seriously hurt in both legs, but no bones are broken. The two men were taken to the Receiving Hospital, where their wounds were dressed.

Broadway Lights Every Night

Will the Broadway lights burn every night? This question has been asked by many people lately, and yesterday Frederick W. Blanchard gave a decidedly affirmative answer. The contract, signed by the city and the electric company, is for fourteen months of continuous lighting, every evening, from thirty minutes after sunset until midnight. For one year and two months light every night is assured. The cost is about $500 per month.

Young People's Meeting

The City Union of Christian Endeavor last night decided to hold a young people's mass meeting in favor of the no-saloon ordinance on Sunday evening. The Baptist young people in session at the same hour, passed a similar resolution, and the two societies will unite in the meeting. The Epworth League, Young Women's Christian Association, and Young Women's Christian Temperance Union will be asked to unite in the movement.

Boyle Heights Organized

A meeting of Boyle Heights people was held at the residence of Dr. G. W. Campbell last night, to formulate plans for the no-saloon campaign. Boyle Heights has been "dry" for years and those at the meeting declared last night that they intended to keep it that way. Headquarters will be opened, banners thrown across the street, and a hot fight made for every vote possible in the Ninth Ward in favor of the ordinance cutting out the saloons.

Auto Bats Wagon

Driving down Fourth street at a high rate of speed, a big red auto became unmanageable yesterday afternoon and after butting savagely into a delivery wagon belonging to Adams and Helminghaus, dashed into the curb in front of the Angeles and spilled out a passenger who was sitting by the side of the chauffeur. The number of the "mumbo" was 750 and the driver in explaining the queer actions of the machine said it had become uncontrollable because of the slippery street.

Of Gardens, This

A meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the East Ninth-street and Mateo Improvement Association will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Neighborhood, corner Ninth and Wilson streets. It will be under the direction of the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. J. E. Wilson. The Garden Committee of the Outdoor Art section of the Civic Federation will meet with the organization. The plans for gardens around the school children will be discussed. Dr. Lamb of the Park Commission is to talk to the members.

"Bowing" Circulation

"In this block," writes a resident of West Twentieth street, "there are five houses, one of which is vacant. This morning a delivery man drove down the middle of the street, 'bowing' copies of the Examiner in each yard. On my way to the car I noticed that similar 'planting' had been done in the front yards of the six houses on Wilton Place, between Eighteenth and Sixteenth streets. In the block in which I live the Examiner has no regular subscribers. All hands, including the vacant house, received free copies of Sunday's edition." "Nuff said."

Ad. Men's Club

The Advertising Men's Club met last evening at the Occidental Club. Some twenty members were present, and the subject, "Non-Advertisers, and Their Success in the Business World," brought out a number of interesting points. The consensus of opinion was that the city of Los Angeles does not support many, if any, of the claims of business men. The principal talk of the evening was made by C. A. Cole, formerly of the National Cash Register Company, who chose as his subject the remarkable success of that company through advertising.

BREVITIES

The volume of "Liners" in the Sunday Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask patrons to get their Sunday advertisements in earlier—especially Sunday real estate announcements, which in order to be printed must be in the office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday night. The printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements, in a part by itself on Sundays involves somewhat slower press work, making it essential, in order to get the paper out on time, to stop receiving real estate ads at 10 o'clock Saturday night. Dealers who confer a favor on the Times office if they will turn in Sunday copy on Friday, when possible, or at least on Saturday, and the balance early on Saturday. Sunday "Want" ads will still be received by phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Our optical department is in charge of three scientific State registered opticians. We charge $1.50 for the best crystal reading lens in guaranteed gold filled frames. Other dealers ask $3.00 to $5.00. We use the most modern optical instruments known to the science. Satisfaction guaranteed. Clark's, 351 S. Spring.

The ladies' rest room on the top floor of the new wing of The Times' Building is open daily from 9 to 5. Ladies from town or country will find this a convenient place to write, rest or read.

WARM HAND-CLASP FOR OUR SALT LAKE GUESTS.

One day an Angel met a Saint
 And what do you think he said?
 Now neither wore an aureole
 Or crown upon his head.
 Or talked about the heavenly harps
 And avenues of gold;
 Nor saintly nor angelic were
 The stories that were told;
 But he of Angel City said:
 To pilgrim from Salt Lake
 "The town has not dried up as yet—
 My friend, what will you take?"

IN THEY CAME.

IN THE best of holiday spirits, Salt

Lake's business men and city government came to Los Angeles and spent their first day here.

Everybody arrived as expected, and was met at the depot by the chief officers of the Salt Lake Railroad. Senator Clark, Vice-President J. Ross

Clark, General Freight and Passenger

Agent Gillett, Assistant Passenger

Agent Peck and T. E. Gibbon

were present in person to greet the guests. Most of them were personally acquainted.

"Welcome to Los Angeles Governor,"

was the greeting Senator Clark gave

as he went forward to greet Gov. Cutler. The chief executive of Utah was the first to step down off the special.

Close behind him was former Gov.

Heber M. Wells, president of the Salt

Lake Commercial Club. With the railroad executive officials were Chairman

Skinner and the Reception Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Apostle Reed Smoot, Apostles John

Henry and George A. Smith, ex-

Apostle Penrose and the other Mor-

Apostle Reed Smoot, when interviewed by The Times man, agreed with what the others in the party said.

"This is something for us all to rejoice

in," he said. "What I have seen of your town and the surrounding country, I like very much indeed. I have waited long and anxiously for this road

to be opened and for Utah, Nevada and Southern California to be united.

I think we can all help one another."

Gov. Cutler is no stranger to Los Angeles. Mr. Cutler and family have been spending all the winter here, and two of the Governor's children are now at school here. Governor Cutler was much gratified at the cordial reception

given to the party.

Chairman Skinner of the Reception

Committee had an excellent plan for the visitor's entertainment. He left them to their own devices yesterday,

allowing them time to breathe, wash

and get their bearings before being rushed off on sight-seeing trips. Yesterday evening was the first formal occasion, on which they got together.

Members of the two City Councils

soon compared notes. The Salt Lake thought the Los Angeles plan of setting aside the whole of every Monday to meetings was a very good one.

"We only meet on Monday evenings,

WHAT THE BEASTS SAID
Now, the owl rose up and spoke
"To-whit-to-who and what
If men could only acquire my eye
What a drop there'd be in the sea
They'd pack their carriages away
And hold them for a rise
And the pipe line'd hunt for a new
If men only had my eye."

Then the polar bear said, with a howl
"Garr-r-r-r! Bless my soul!
If men only grew some heavy fur
To the deuce with clothes and shoes
They'd sell their hunters for a new
And lie on the ice to sleep
And the entire State of William Might go to raising sheep."

Then the goat gulped down a case
"Baw-w! You make me smile.
The cost of living's not all in gas.
And coal and kerosene lie.
Now, wouldn't the Beef Trust get a quick."

And languish in chronic blues
If the waste from any old boiler
Could be made into Irish stew."

Then the eagle said, "With all the They'd do away with freight,
And would only need a pair of my feet to get the railroad rate.
There'd be a state of steady decline
In the home of the big ship
They'd turn their Pullmans out to
And leave the rails to rust."

Then the monkey spoke, with a howl
"In the monkey-like way he had,
You fellows would make up a pair of my tail to make a mule, he said.
You'd make it so easy for him to
That you'd fool the whole bunch."

With nothing on earth to scrap about What's the fun of being a man?
—(Garr-r-r! Smith, in New York Tribune)

An Ironmonger Did It.
That Andrew Carnegie's gift
necessary is a satire on people.
The works of man have their limits
in the schoolroom. The foundation stones of all honestly made are laid there. The pupil, the teacher, the reward, and the punishment.

There are in America today
scores of college-bred men count their dollars in millions.
to them, if to anyone, that the looked for recognition of the the teacher.

Andrew Carnegie has built hospitals and lyciums, but his bering of the teachers is a cruel deed of the school. And a cruel schooling, an ironmonger, did it.

Women and the Suffrage.
He: You say women ought to the suffrage; but I doubt if you know how to vote if you had chance.
She: I would, too. I'd know what man to vote for. I'd look for He: But you probably wouldn't any of the candidates.
She: Men who are ashamed to the question to the "Have you heard of me?" I don't know, after all,
that wouldn't be the wisest course.

A Sure Thing Bet.
A Kansas man has made a bet
he could invent a question to which fifty people would all give the same answer. The experiment has been tried and it works like a charm.
The question is: "Have you heard of me?" Smith has committed the answer: "What Smith?" —(Kansas City Journal)

Earning His Fee.
Doctor: You require smoking
tobacco, don't you?
Patient: I do, doctor.
Doctor: Then don't. —(Chicago Post)

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

THEATRO. In the bright and effervescent comedy of "Harriet's Honey-moon," by Leo Dietrichstein, the capable Belasco players have another happy chance of showing an appreciative audience what good work they can do in a short week's notice.

Amelia Gardner's interpretation of Harriet Daint is a delightful piece of character work—the petulant, pouting, sneering, jealous young wife who,
through all her vagaries, shows somehow the grace, the sweetness, the charm of the true American woman.

Joseph Calbraith is hardly less convincing as the sturdy young business man, Edith Carleton Baird of New York,
who also shows the American capacity for rising to the occasion.

James Bliss and Thomas Oberle were greatly with applause when they first appeared to their cues, and they met the high expectations of their audience. Richard Vivian was unfortunately ill in the early part of last evening, but he recovered sufficiently to appear later. His lines were well read from the prompter's book by William Warren.

The other characters in "Harriet's Honey-moon" are acceptably cast, and are played with the delicate and good judgment looked for in all the Belasco people.

BURBANK. "Juanita of San Juan,"
by Richard Walton Tully, exploits a dramatic field which has been worked but little, gives evidence of a clever man at stage management, and puts in entirely new settings an old, old love story.

It is a play of the West, and its scene
may be called entirely local, since it deals with the California Indians at the time of their earliest contact with the white man. It is not to be compared to "Ramona," in any way, save in setting.

It is original, clever and entertaining, and besides is well played. It affords a wholesome and decided relief from the wearisome strain of conventional stage thrills which up by melodramatic productions as commonly staged.

Messico's company, in its presentation, shows excellent "team work," as a bunch of athletes might term it, and in addition, an unusual, individual adaptation to the roles assigned.

The aggregation has been strengthened by the addition of William Burbank, who will be remembered
here by reason of his excellent work with Baker and Neil. Burbank is such a master of the stage, that he has been having a good time for the past few months that there is no possible comparison in any of his descriptions. In other words, Burbank is an actor of really extraordinary talent, bringing intelligence to his conception of a part,
making melodrama at least of passing interest.

In summary the Burbank had outdone himself, and the settings—bearing in mind
of course the limited time and space available—were quite unusual.

The story is the simple one of love and difficulty in bringing the love to a satisfactory matrimonial conclusion all small. Instead of marrying an outcast Indian, as Ramona does, Juanita marries to a white man.

The leading parts are impersonated
by Blanche Hall and William Desmond.
In this charming and well-told tale
and talent in the delineation of these roles.

The company has a new ingenuity in the person of Miss Monda Glendower, who takes her part in local appearance and drama. Her work is clever and personally vivacious.

Her good character roles are always taken through the passing scenes, and taken with credit and success by W. Burton, Thomas McAllister and Amy Strickland.

In all, all the pieces is the best of the sort at the Burbank during the spring season, and the company, as now constituted, shows itself worthy of better things than cochineal blood and tin trumpets.

ORPHEUM. Another good bill at the Orpheum this week. Although sensational Paul Conchas has gone, other numbers of excellence, at least one new and original, find place on the programme.

Chief of these is "A Christmas" on Buckwell's Island, presented by Sidney Deane and his company. The scene is at Yuletide in Blackwell prison, and the actors are three men in cells for various offenses, and a warden, and a trustee, run in for thirty days for killing a man with a motor car. The trio of the cells make a fine picture, the voice of Deane himself, being especially resonant.

Another good one is Louise Dresser, a singing comedienne of ultra-refinement and artistic simplicity.
She affects a plain white gown instead of a society's skin, a well-remembered voice instead of an imitation "coon song," and gets splendid results.

Louise Dresser-Titus and her husband return. Mrs. Titus's well-remembered musical act could be greatly improved this time by the introduction of more of her "baby songs," and less
of the other imitations.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.
The advance sale of single seats for the Innes May Festival of next week opened yesterday and the first day's sale, as well as the numerous inquiries regarding the programme to be offered, presage a large attendance.

The interest in the children's chorus is so pronounced and so many have applied for seat reservations that it has been considered advisable to give two children's matinees in order to accommodate those who want to hear the public-school pupils in choral work.

The regular matinee is scheduled for Saturday, and if there is an extra one,
it will necessarily have to be with the consent of Superintendent Fosbury
for the opening of the Los Angeles festival.
From this city Innes will jump to Portland, where his organization will play for the opening month of the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Innes and his band closed their engagement in San Francisco Sunday night to an audience that taxed the capacity of Mechanics' Pavilion. After a brief engagement in San Jose, the band will rest for a few days, prior to the opening of the Los Angeles festival.

Other numbers were furnished by the Maurer sisters, street singers; Norman Willis and Monte Collins, travesty performers; G. S. Stephenson and the Angels quartette; Gus Leonard, comedian, and motion pictures.

WHICH, OF COURSE, INCLUDES
OTHER BED COVERINGS : : :

Coincident with campers' and beach cottagers' needs comes a chance to buy many of the most staple sorts of bedding at practically a fourth under our own regular prices.

In some instances the price-cuts are made to force out certain lines that are to be supplanted by others; then, besides, every piece of bedding that shows any effects of having been handled—as a sample—is radically reduced. There is no other way for OUR bedding to get soiled for we never take anything of this sort back after a customer has kept it over night.

Besides protecting you in that way we protect the blankets by keeping them in dust-proof cases—so you may be sure that none of them are so badly soiled that they need laundering.

Embroideries at Half Bought Far Below Real Worth

Hundreds of delighted purchasers yesterday, but the size of the stock was too great for assortments to be depleted by a single day's selling. Some of the best patterns were unpacked too late to reach the sales-counters Monday, but are ready today.

Another feature of Mrs. de Landburg was her habit of taking with an $8000 cash which is here-with produced.

Mrs. de Landburg's life can be contrasted with her belongings in Los Angeles, where she had a mistress, leading to numerous scandalous events, which she still finds time for story telling, and complete fiction of action, which is no stands of publishers.

NEW LIGHT FOR SAN BERDOO MOUNTAIN TUNNEL.

Six Shifts of Miners at Work Boring the Four Thousand Foot Hole to Connect With Little Bear—Jury Tells How They Looked on Testimony in Rector Trial.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 8.—The first electric-lighting plant in Grass Valley, on the San Bernardino Mountains, nineteen miles from here, was set in motion yesterday. It has been installed by the Arrowhead Reservoir Company, which is putting in an elaborate system of reservoirs on the mountains.

Grass Valley, comprising over 2000 acres, is being transformed into a reserve reservoir to furnish water to the main reservoir in Little Bear Valley, the two valleys being connected by a tunnel 4000 feet in length. This long tunnel is now being driven through the intervening mountain, miners being at work on both ends of the tunnel. Besides furnishing an elaborate system of the big hole, the electric current also furnishes a supply of fresh air.

Day and night, the miners are at work, six shifts being employed. At one end of the tunnel has been driven 700 feet and is 600 feet through at the other. The tunnel is to be six feet in height and five and a half feet wide. When completed, it will be lined with cement and the reservoir company will have completed its gigantic undertaking within three years, when the mountains will be dotted with a chain of picturesque lakes, and the whole transformed into a grand pleasure resort, though the principal object of the undertaking is to impound water for the cultivation of the San Bernardino Valley.

Men arriving from Grass Valley this morning say that there are forty men now employed at that point by the contractor, and seventy-five at the Little Bear Valley, and that the force will be increased to between 250 and 300. Water is already being impounded in the Little Bear Valley reservoir, where the dam is rapidly being built. When completed, it will be nearly 200 feet high. In Grass Valley the dam will reach a height of ninety-two feet.

RECTOR'S NEW TRIAL.
The case of J. W. Rector was before the Superior Court this morning for fixing the time for a new trial. The court set June 20 for the second hearing. Members of the late jury which disagreed, say that they were satisfied with the testimony of Mrs. May Sheehan, the complaining witness and her little daughter, believing that she cannot be relied upon and the child showed the evidence of parental influence.

The court had instructed the jury to disregard the evidence introduced by the defense against the woman's character, but the five jurors who believe the prisoner innocent thought otherwise, and freely say so. As witnesses against the prisoner the prosecution had a number of disreputable characters from the County Jail, which also weakened the case against Rector.

ORANGE.
POIRIER NOT SO POOL.
ORANGE, May 8.—Isodore Poirier, who had his leg amputated Wednesday at the Sisters' Hospital in Los Angeles, is reported as having poor chances for recovery. Mr. Poirier, who is one of the French residents of Orange, was supposed to be a very poor man. To the contrary it is learned that the unfortunate Frenchman owns property worth $15,000 or more. His personal belongings here have been cared for by a cousin from Los Angeles, who came to Orange last week.

Articles of incorporation of the Ideal Water Company have been filed with a capital stock of $2000. The company is composed of several ranchmen north-west of Anaheim, who expect to develop a flow of 150 inches of water by pumping, and to connect their ranches by cement ditches.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson expect to be absent about four months. The Orange Villa Hotel that was recently sold, is now under the management of Mrs. E. Stinson and daughter, Miss Beattie Stinson.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IN SANTA BARBARA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SANTA BARBARA, May 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A disastrous fire broke out here at 7:40 o'clock to-night, in the rear of Collins & Walton's dry goods and shoe store, and destroyed the building and contents at a property loss estimated at $80,000.

The alarm was turned in by a small boy and within five minutes, by the time the fire engine was on the ground, the rear of the interior of the large double store was a mass of flames. Water had little effect on the fire and a second hose was soon carried up the

Returning in deep anger to his office, he was soon visited by a deputy sheriff, who, after three hours' of hounding, got him away to his room in the Hotel Washington, No. 7114 South Olive street, and put him to bed.

The officer, during the long watch, was waiting for the appearance of another deputy with a warrant for Blake's arrest. It was not forthcoming, as afterward learned, because the telegram from Mrs. Gourley directing the arrest of her son, and for which a near relative of Blake's in this city was anxiously waiting, was all the time reposing in Blake's pocket. Mrs. Gourley, at Pontiac, Ill., had addressed

THE LATE MRS. GEORGE D. BLAKE.
Whose death plunged husband into fatal study of occultism.

It is the relative in care of Blake's stenographer, a Miss Bingham, that Blake's office, the Ridge Building, and so it has some dirty into Blake's hands, and he had opened it, and with the cunning of a madman quickly put it in his pocket.

"DIED IN MY ARMS."
Somewhere in one of the streets of the East Side Maud Freitag, a notorious clairvoyant, lies at the point of death. In the last few months she has been the intimate companion of George Blake, "Theodore" is the fond name by which he calls her, and he calmly tells her two days ago she "died right here in my arms." So he informed the deputy sheriff.

"But," cried he, rising from his office chair and placing his back to the window, so that the fading light of day made him stand out sharply like a silhouette in the dim room, "but some think she is not dead, my Theodore. Lies she there, so still, so pale, so rigid on her couch, can you not see her, as I? Her breath stutters briefly; slowly her eyes unfold; she is dead; and tomorrow we will bury her, my Theodore. But because they are beautiful limbs quiver and behold the flicker of her eyelids, they think she lives; but the last, convulsive struggle of her soul, taking its flight to the astral plane—afar! And like a mother crooning its child to slumber he paced back and forth, slowly back and forth in the light of the windows, caressing the spirit of his inanimate, calling her name, babbling to her soft, far gone, endearment, run through with a thread of psychic gibber.

GHOSTS OF THE GREAT.
Suddenly he stopped. Threw out his arms. Caught his head in both hands. Muttered: "Lords of Karma, you come!" Then to the officer: "Listen! They call me the Most High Master—and I am. Out there—you cannot see it, with vivacity of the mind, and all the forces of life are swirling. The white, they are the forces of good; the black, the forces of evil. Against me the psychic tribes of hell are training their legion strength; to uphold me and bear me in their hands the forces of good love and truth and beauty are flocking. I feel the karma jords. Think you I could have endured under the horrible strain of the last few weeks save for them, my help? Ha! how shall I prevail against such as I, the Most High Master? Listen! Now at 9 o'clock in the morning will be begun the greatest financial task the world has ever known. Here on this very corner, where Third street crosses Broadway, Henry E. Huntington, Collis P. Huntington, Stephen M. White and George D. Blake shall erect the most magnificent bank that human eyes have conceived. It will be capitalized for two billion dollars. We shall have a 4 per cent. The world will rush pell mell over itself to deposit with us. I shall be president, Henry E. Huntington shall be cashier. We will make pawn shops of the other banks—pawn shops, I say, assure that they are, charging their 10 per cent. And the poor, crazed fellow, his high-colored, handsome face working with muscular spasms induced by the belief that the spirits were trying to gain possession of his body. He might speak aloud in voices that should be recognized as their own, fell to repeating messages.

RECEIVED FROM THEATER.
The truth is, George Blake's reason has been dethroned as much by delving into the phosphorescent rubbish of psychic extravaganzas as by overwork and hereditary taint. These last few months he has been walking spiritually arm-in-arm with Helen Blavatsky, to whom he refers as "H. B., my dear one," and steeping his soul in the very debauchery of occultism. So, little by little, the myths have toppled his reason from its throne, until now in the dim chambers of his crumbling consciousness such outre shapes as the "lords of Karma"—esoteric creation of the occult—stalk and loom for ever.

Later in the same evening he visited a popular cafe, and was ejected because the head waiter objected to his wearing the character and genius of one of the famous of the world's dead. Another suit for $150,000 to $200,000 is to follow.

IMPEACH JUDGE WILBUR.
Blake learned, through psychic revelation, that a telegram advising his mother that he was mad had been dispatched by Superior Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, between whom and Blake a grudge of some standing exists. Blake's information from the spirit world is that Attorney Williams, Phillips and Cochrane, with whom he is at enmity on account of the Goodrich estate, procured $150,000 from the Broadway Bank & Trust Company and paid it to County Clerk Sam Keyes in reward for his having "ribbed" Wilbur to this act of officiousness. Blake announced emphatically, when being taken home last night by the deputy sheriff, that he would spend $25,000 to impeach Judge M. White, will at once have the Judge impeached and the attorneys disbarred.

Curious people on South Broadway last evening turned to look after the madman and his guardian officer, as they went by. Blake kept up a loud, and melodious, flow of speech, under the hallucination that the "lords of Karma" were speaking through him. One of his statements, that if these "lords" instructed him to plunge a knife into any man's heart he was bound to obey without hesitation, led to the fetching of a male nurse from the County Hospital shortly before midnight, to remain in the hallway outside Blake's room, in case he should attempt some violent deed.

The unfortunate lawyer's arrest will follow the issuance of an insanity complaint at an early hour this morning.

VIVACIOUS GIRLS POSE IN EPAULETTES AND TROUSERS.

THIS is the best yet. Oh, just look at him! (Shriek.) He's smoking! I mean she's smoking. Oh, isn't it clever, bravo! bravo!

This was heard at the annual French play given by the French section of the Rbell Club, yesterday afternoon, to an appreciative, nay, an enthusiastic audience.

This section includes a talented set; they can act and they can sing and they can dance; and when a man is needed in a play, and it seems that a man is needed even in a comedy entitled "The Henocop," why, there is always one who can rise to the occasion and travesty the small failings of mankind, and even make love to perfection.

"Le Postallier," which is more polite than "Henocop," but means the same thing, was a sparkling and catchy little farce. The players had as good a time as those who witnessed it, as far as the audience was concerned.

Madame Donato as the Orderly, Miss Foster as Martine

as one could judge, and the good time was all in French, with the instructor of the section, Mme. Donato, presenting the character of the most ridiculous little French orderly that ever stepped out of any comedy, while the curator, Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle, was earning the brightest of laurels as an ancient French nurse.

In plain English the story of Antoine de Vierge's side-splitting little farce tells of one Viviane, a Countess who cued from a perilous accident in Paris. By skilful maneuvering the captain manages to secure a few moments with his lady love and tells his passion in the most ardent manner. Sooth to say, she returns his affection, and the comedy ends most satisfactorily.

Jaques de Montfleur, capitaine de chasseurs, was the all-conquering hero of the affair, and he is in real life Miss Louise Kimball, though you never would have known it. He had a killing way of carefully hitching up his regimentals. She really and truly smoked a cigarette with a nonchalance of the professional, and the smoke that wreathed itself about was thrilling to behold. Miss Carlisle, as the young sister, Raymonde, was French girl to the life and her French was well-nigh perfect. Mrs. Carlisle's make-up and her acting of the part of Germaine was rich.

Indeed, it was a collection of stars. Mrs. Millard was one of the Countess's friends had the sprightliness of the true soubrette. Mrs. Le Doux was the Countess, and she is real when it comes to the French language and to dramatics as well. Mrs. W. A. Banks was one of the gay trio who played the part of the Countess's friends. The straight-laced English instructor for Raymonde, who proved so exasperating to the captain in his love affair, was Mrs. George Horst. Mrs. M. D. Foster, in some desperate flirting with the orderly, represented the most fetching fille de cuisine.

There was a deal of eating and drinking in the comedy. The prettiest situation, except the final denouement, was the song, the dreadful song, and the clinking of glasses of champagne by the merry mesdames.

GROWERS AFTER CITRUS UNION.

MONROVIA SHIPPERS SAY RETURNS FOOLED THEM.

Declare They Were Called on to Make Up Deficit Due to Decay When Flat Rate Had Been Offered for Fruit—Threaten Suit—Buyers Allege Misunderstanding.

The claims of four orange growers of Monrovia, against the California Citrus Union have been placed in the hands of a Los Angeles attorney, with instructions to file suit to recover an amount alleged to be due for fruit shipped in March and for which the growers claim they have been tendered sums much smaller than they understood was to be paid at the time the oranges were delivered at the packing-house. Prof. J. G. Cross, Rufus McManaman, C. N. Whitaker and a Mrs. Hissard are the dissatisfied ones.

Whether the district agent at Monrovia offered these persons a certain amount for their fruit on a cash order, or whether he asked them to fill an order subject to inspection at destination, is the question at issue.

The growers declare they were guaranteed a stated price, and that, when settlement was asked, deductions were made by the Citrus Union for excessive decay, reducing the returns to an extremely low figure.

One grower, who is said to have furnished seventy-five or eighty boxes of oranges for which he expected nearly as many dollars, found himself, at the time of settlement, indebted to the Citrus Union to the amount of 46 cents.

Prof. Cross received check from the Union for $20.38, where he expected $20, and he says the latter amount was promised him. He says he previously turned over to the Union two shipments for which he was paid promptly, but that a deduction of 30 per cent. was made on the shipment in question because of decay.

Claims of the other parties are based on the same kind of misunderstanding as to whether the fruit was subject to inspection by the buyer or was to be paid for by the Union at a flat rate.

"The entire matter is due to a misunderstanding on the part of the growers," said F. C. Winthrope, vice-president of the Citrus Union, at his office in this city yesterday.

The fruit delivered to us by these growers was on consignment, as nearly all oranges are handled in this way. The growers expect us to pay them full prices for fruit which, because of decay, could be sold for only a small fraction of the figure it should and probably would have brought if it had not spoiled in transit.

The growers are mistaken in understanding that they were to receive a stated price for the fruit as it was delivered to use. The arrangements between them and the district agents were oral, however, and the growers must have

SAYS A HOLD-UP MAN SHOT HIM.

ALSO SAYS HE SLAPPED FACE OF A HIGHWAYMAN.

G. L. Berry Tells the Police of an Encounter With a Robber and Shows a Bullet Hole in the Arm as Evidence of Truth of His Story. Lost Forty Dollars.

G. L. Berry, who resides at the Hotel Rockwood, Eighth and Olive streets, became so angry when a hold-up man poked a revolver under his nose and abstracted $40 in bills from his vest pocket, that he actually slapped the highwayman's face.

Berry's rash act nearly cost him his life, for in the scuffle that ensued the robber's revolver was discharged and a 22-caliber bullet cut a clean hole through Berry's forearm.

All of these facts and more Berry told to Policeman Spellman and Detective Davis in a drugstore at Seventh and Broadway last night, as the hero of the encounter sat while his wound was being dressed by a physician.

According to Berry's statement, he was walking along the east side of Olive, between Seventh and Eighth streets shortly before 11 o'clock last evening, bound for the postoffice. Suddenly he was confronted by a man with a drawn revolver and without waiting to be told Berry raised his hands high above his head as he gazed into the muzzle of the gun. Nonchalantly the robber took the roll of bills from the victim's pocket and Berry says he angrily slapped the thief's jaws. Then Berry was shot.

The robber ran down an alley toward Hill street and Berry yelled for help, but failing to find an officer he went to a Broadway drug-store. Berry is positive he could identify his assailant, but when questioned closely by the police the victim could not even tell whether the robber was smooth-shaven or wore whiskers.

HARVEST OPENS AT IMPERIAL.

SEASON'S FIRST GRAIN BROUGHT TO WAREHOUSE.

Over Seven Thousand Acres of Alfalfa Fields Which Bring an Annual Rental of Ten Dollars or More Per Acre—Mammoth Strawberries. Will Celebrate New Warehouse.

IMPERIAL, May 7.—The first grain of the season was delivered at the Heber warehouse of the Desert Milling Company Friday. It was barley. This is believed to be the first grain of the new crop to be harvested in the State. Grain is maturing rapidly, and many harvesting outfits are starting in work. Yield is estimated at from 200,000 to 500,000 sacks.

Taking 400,000 as the average, it will require 125 cars of grain to transport it. Twenty-five cars make a fair train, so that over fifty trains will be necessary to get this one crop to market. If stacked side by side, the sacks of grain would make a row over one hundred miles long, and extend from Imperial to the coast.

Imperial Valley is now rated as the third largest shipping point in Southern California.

BIG ALFALFA ACREAGE.

There are now over 7000 acres of alfalfa in the valley, and very profitable returns are reported. Alfalfa fields bring an annual rental of $10 an acre upward. Quite recently a thirty-acre field near Imperial was rented for sixty days for $300. After a stand is once secured, little further work is required except to irrigate it. With such a yield the growth increases and the yield is heavier. When not pastured, the crop is cut about once a month, yielding a ton or more to the acre.

As an example of what this valley can produce, J. S. Snyder tells of a strawberry picked from his plants which measured two and one-half inches in diameter and weighed nearly four ounces. It was of the Arizona Everbearing variety. The plants were set out last fall. From a small patch of ground, Mr. Snyder has sold within the past few weeks over $30 worth of berries.

CINCO DE MAYO.

The Mexican national holiday, Cinco de Mayo (first of May) which corresponds in a measure to our Fourth of July, was appropriately celebrated at the border towns of Calexico and Mexicali. The Imperial Brass Band headed a delegation which went from this part of the valley to assist in the celebration.

The Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting Thursday evening, adopted a resolution requesting Congressman Smith to use his influence toward having a special agent of the United States Land Office appointed for the valley.

BUCKEYES MEET.

Splendid Decorations and Programme at the "Los Angeles Night" of Ohio Society.

The Ohio Society made a notable effort in its decorations last night, on the occasion of its "Los Angeles Night" at Blanchard Hall. If there has been failure to appreciate the beauty and grace of the wild-mustard bloom as an artistic flower, the Ohio Society redeemed the reputation of the city last night. The platform was a perfect wilderness of the delicate blooms, arranged with exceptional art, that on the right of the stage reaching entirely to the top of the proscenium arch. The whole effect, in combination with a great number of flags was most striking and was worth going far to see.

At various places over the floor of the hall large banners were in sight, bearing the names of different counties in the State of Ohio, and around every one of the banners was a group of people engaged in animated conversation. It was a happy idea and it was well carried out under the direction of Miss Winifred B. Rogers, chairman of the entertainment committee. The following programme was rendered after the people had spent an hour together:

Piano solo, Mrs. Lucille C. Wyatt; Los Angeles—Religious Condition and Progress, Rev. B. C. Cory; Vocal solo, Mrs. Lucille C. Wyatt; Los Angeles—Educationally, Charles Cassat Davis; Violin solo, Harold Desarry; Los Angeles—Growth and Popularity, L. C. Gates; "The Sword of Bunker Hill," Rev. B. C. Cory.

DIED IN DETROIT.

Wife of Well-Known Los Angeles Citizen Succumbed to Operation in Michigan Metropolis.

Mrs. Carrie E. Common, wife of George Common of Los Angeles, died at 6 o'clock last night in a hospital in Detroit from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. She left her home here four weeks ago to visit her parents, who reside in Detroit, and soon after her arrival there she became ill. An operation was found to be necessary, and it was performed yesterday. The patient failed to recover from the effects of the anesthetic. A telegram to her husband last night informed him of her death and was the first intimation he had that she was seriously ill.

Mrs. Common was 35 years of age. Her home in this city was at No. 552 1/2 South avenue. The family has resided here for nine years. Besides her husband, two sons and a daughter survive. The funeral will take place in Detroit.
